

Head of Primary Care – London

Health Partners is one of the UK's leading Occupational Health organisations, supporting the health and wellbeing of over 3 million employees across the UK workforce. We combine expert advice and clinical services with smart systems to deliver impact driven health programs tailored to our clients' needs.

With over 1400 employees working with over 1000 clients, we pride ourselves on developing strong partnerships with our clients, getting to the heart of their individual challenges and needs: tailoring occupational health packages to suit them.

Our people are important to us and as we take care of our clients, we also make sure that we are taking care of every single person who works with us. So, when you join us, we promise to put our support behind you and your career.

You'll work in an open and supportive environment where you'll be developed, challenged and encouraged to move around to achieve even bigger and better things. You'll learn from the expertise of our senior leaders, from the best in our business.

Role Outline:

We are looking for a visionary leader to become our Head of Primary Care to manage and develop our onsite GP services for a range of corporate clients, reporting to the Head of Health you will play a pivotal role in leading the expansion and development of our primary care offering, ensuring the highest standards of clinical quality are met whilst continuing to drive growth.

What you'll be doing:

We are seeking an ambitious and dynamic individual to oversee the delivery of high-quality onsite GP services for our corporate clients while driving the expansion of innovative primary care solutions. From developing 24-hour online GP services and establishing private GP centres in key population hubs, to supporting underserved areas and creating specialised care for diverse populations, this role offers the opportunity to lead meaningful change in healthcare delivery.

You'll also spearhead the integration of online pharmacy services, expand medical screening offerings, and develop a direct-to-consumer primary care model. With a focus on operational excellence, strategic planning, and attracting top medical talent, you'll shape a profitable, sustainable business unit that meets the evolving needs of corporate and private clients. If you're passionate about fostering innovation, driving partnerships, and delivering world-class clinical outcomes, we want to hear from you.

What we are looking for:

The successful candidate will be a forward-thinking, entrepreneurial General Practitioner with a passion for delivering exceptional healthcare services and a proven track record in managing and scaling healthcare operations. With significant experience in primary care management or a similar leadership role, you'll bring a deep understanding of the UK healthcare system, including corporate healthcare, private GP services, and NHS collaboration.

You'll have successfully developed and expanded healthcare services or business units, showcasing strong commercial acumen and strategic planning skills. As an inspiring leader, you'll excel at motivating high-performing teams and engaging stakeholders, all while maintaining an unwavering commitment to clinical excellence and patient-centred care.
